

ARC Statisticians

Award statistics are compiled by volunteers who are members of the American Rottweiler Club. Statistics are tabulated based on wins published in the AKC Awards.

Our volunteer Statisticians will attempt to provide statistics to the Webmaster on a quarterly basis, and they will be posted to the website as received. If there is no link to the statistics below, then you may assume they have not been provided for posting to the website.

Please be aware that the AKC Awards, from which the statistics are compiled, are about a month behind; e.g. January show results received at the end of February. Also sometimes there are delays in compilation of statistics beyond the control of the statisticians. Please treat all our volunteers with the respect they deserve for taking on what often seems like a thankless task.

The ARC Top Ten Statisticians work hard to complete the final statistics in time for the National Specialty. With the specialty date changing from year to year, it has become a hard push for the statisticians to complete the task in time.

The final statistics for a given year will not be posted until after the following year's ARC National Specialty when the Top 10 Awards will be presented at the Top Dog Evening. Please do not contact the Statisticians and ask where your dog ranks in the final standings as they are not allowed to provide this information. However, they can confirm whether or not your dog is in the final Top 10 and will receive an invitation to the Top Dog Evening.

The statistics are being kept for ARC and the ARC Board of Directors agrees that the final annual statistics will be published in the ARK or on the website before being provided to other publications or individuals. Following our posting or publishing, any other publication that would like to publish or distribute the statistics must give recognition to ARC and the statistician.
